Annual Report 2014

Statement of LSCO

“Annual Report 2014” is the 3rd Annual Report of Lao Securities Commission Office (LSCO). I am honored and believe that this report will provide significant information to public on securities activities of Lao PDR in 2014.

In 2014, Lao Securities Commission (LSC) has paid attention and put every effort to create efficiency, transparency and fairness for securities regulatory. We completed the formulation and amendment of 9 legislations, granted an approval for Initial Public Offering (IPO) to 1 company to raise fund, permitted Lao Securities Exchange to change its trading method from “Call Auction” (6 times per day) to “Continuous Auction” (real time trading) as well as to increase daily stock price movement limit from $\pm 5\%$ to $\pm 10\%$ by comparing to closing price of the previous day, and certified 1 commercial bank to provide custodian bank service. In addition, LSCO has regularly conducted seminars and workshops, which aim to provide knowledge and understanding to the society on securities activities. Furthermore, in order to follow the international affair policies set out by the Party and Government, LSCO has regularly extended the international co-operation through bilateral and multilateral collaborations with the Securities Commissions in the region as well as the international organizations. Besides, LSCO also accomplished the creation of Strategic Plan on Lao Capital Market Development from 2016-2025 and Vision up to 2030 in order to boost the development of securities regulatory as well as capital market regulatory of Lao PDR continuously and sustainably.

For the 2015 outlooks, LSCO shall execute its roles and right on macro management in securities activities with more focus on legislations formulation and amendment to ensure the stability of Lao Securities Exchange and market participants, to encourage potential companies to be listed in the exchange, to prepare all necessary conditions for foreign credit rating company to provide rating service in the Lao PDR, to extend the diversity of education on securities activities to public, to expand relationship with other securities commissions and international organizations in order to seek for technical assistance and to apply for International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) membership. Moreover, we shall prepare our readiness for hosting the 5th Mekhong Capital Market Cooperation (MCMC) Meeting.

Ordinary shareholders' meeting shall be organized at least once a year; meanwhile the duration of the meeting is mentioned in the article of association of the company. The objective of the shareholders' meeting is to summarize the performance of the company, approve financial statements, dividend payment, future business plan etc. In addition, extraordinary shareholders' meeting can be held any time as if necessary such as there is any change in article of association of the company, registered capital reduction or increase, reselection of external auditors etc.

Shareholders' meeting participation is the right and duty of all company's shareholders, which listed, in the record book. The shareholders should attend the meeting in order to maintain their rights and interest in decision making on the company's critical issues, direction and business plan. Furthermore, the shareholders should provide the comments and raise questions to the board of directors about the company performance and examine financial statements to protect their own benefit.

- Custodian bank

Both domestic and foreign commercial banks can provide custodian bank services once they have been approved by LSCO.

The custodian bank can provide various services likewise information keeping, assets deposit, and cash or securities settlement, customers' cash and securities transfer between custodian banks. Act as representative of customers in shareholders' meeting as assigned by customers. Besides, the custodian bank also provides the result of securities trading notification after trading completed, keep customers' information confidentially and perform other rights and duties which mentioned in contract between the custodian bank and customers.

III. Securities Markets Performance

1. Global securities markets

In 2014, the foreign stock market indexes have generally picked up compared to the previous year. It is partly due to the Fed's stimulus measure by maintaining QE policy and the amount of monthly bond purchase and the increasing in employment rate in the United States. In Euro zone, GDP has widened at 0.3%, while the ECB has announced the further reduction in policy rate and the plan to purchase household's assets to stimulate its overall economy. Asia was also accommodated by the central bank of China that previously injected money to its economy and the Tax Office of China also reported that the export grew at 9.4% and Purchasing Manager Index also recorded a 17-month high.

These factors have driven the index of major global market up at remarkable rate. The NASDAQ, S&P500 and Dow Jones uniformly went up above 10%. In Europe, the DAX of Germany rose slightly at 4% while there was almost no change at the FTSE. Similarly in Asia, the major stock exchanges also marked the significant rise. Shenzhen Exchange rose to almost 30% while Taiwan Index (TWSE) and NEKKEI showed a notable rate at 10-11%. There was also the same trend in ASEAN where the PCOMP of Philippines, JCI of Indonesia, SET of Thailand and Vietnamese Stock Exchanges were among best performers at the rate above 15%. STRAIT TIMES of Singapore and FBMLCI in Malaysia have a slighter growth at 5% and 2% respectively.

2.4 Securities Intermediaries Performance

Securities Intermediaries comprise of securities companies, asset management companies, custodian banks, audit companies, credit rating agencies and securities business association. Currently, there are only 4 securities companies, 3 audit companies and 1 custodian bank in Lao PDR.

Presently, there are 4 securities companies namely Lanexang Securities Public Company, BCEL-KT Securities Company Limited, Lao-China Securities Company Limited and APM (LAO) Securities Company Limited (reference 2). Regarding their business operation, securities companies still have liquidity and none of financial risks because they don't have any debts or long-term investments and most of their variable assets are bank deposits. In 2014, securities companies have improved their accounting systems in order to be able to report their net capital ratio. Since July 2014, 2 securities companies including Lanexang Securities Public Company and BCEL-KT Securities Company Limited have regularly submitted the report on net capital ratio.

At the end of 2014, all 4 securities companies recorder a total amount of registered capital of LAK 305 billion which was the same figure of the last year. Total assets decreased by LAK 1.88 billion or 0.48% to LAK 390.55 billion. Net assets decreased by LAK 6.8 billion or -2,18% to LAK 304.48 billion, Revenue increased by LAK 15,04 billion or 65,04% to LAK 38.17 billion compared to last year. Additionally, their profit dropped by LAK 3.78 billion or -70.62% to LAK 1.57 billion. The reason for a lower profit was due to the newly established securities company has not made enough revenue to cover great expense of business operation (chart 9).

(Unit: Billion LAK)

In 2014, there were 27 securities business professionals including 25 securities brokers and 2 financial advisors, which increased by 4 individuals compared to 2013.

In addition, the LSCO also granted an approval to act as a custodian bank for Bangkok Bank Public Company Limited (Vientiane Branch). There are 3 audit companies who are granted approval from the LSCO in providing auditing service on securities activities namely Price Water House Coopers Co., Ltd, KPMG Lao Co., Ltd and Ernst & Young Lao Co., Ltd.

2.5 Training and Education

LSCO pays a close attention on providing securities training and education in various forms to increase public awareness and involve developing in the capital market. Especially, advertising through media such as: Lao Phatthana newspaper, Lao national television on Channel 1 and Channel 3, LSCO website and also through radio station on 99.7 MHz; LSCO organized a number of seminars on securities related topic at educational and governmental organizations in Vientiane Capital (16 times, 1,922 participants) and other provinces (7 provinces, 586 participants). Beside this, LSCO together with LSX, Asset Pro Management Lao (APM) and Nomura representative office held the seminar on securities related topics in 5 provinces, 372 participants.

2.6 International cooperation

In 2014, LSCO has broadly implemented the international collaboration policies imposed by the Party and the Government. Bilateral co-operations between LSC and the State Securities Commission of Vietnam (SSC), the China Securities Regulatory Commission (CSRC), and the Securities and Exchange Commission Thailand (SEC) were further strengthened. Upon such cooperation, LSCO has learned and shared the securities supervisory experiences from each other by holding annual bilateral meetings, sending LSCO staffs to on-site training programs, and co-conducting seminars and workshops on securities professional program to market participants.

LSCO has executed ASEAN Capital Market Integration Plan through the participation in ASEAN Integration Projects such as ASEAN Capital Market Forum (ACMF) and Working Committee on Capital Market Development (WC-CMD), ASEAN Bond Market Forum (ABMF) etc. to discuss on principles and standards making for cross-border securities transactions in ASEAN. Moreover, LSCO has started to study into details on conditions and criterias of the International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) and prepared the readiness of the Lao PDR to become its member which is one of the most important conditions for Lao Capital Market in order to integrate into the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) integration in 2015. Furthermore, LSCO also strengthened its collaboration among 5 Securities Commissions in the Greater Mekong Sub-region by attending the Mekong Capital Markets Co-operation meeting regularly.

In additions, LSCO has deepened its relationship with the international organizations as well, such as Inter-national Finance Corporation (IFC), Asian Development Bank (ADB), the World Bank (WB) etc. to seek for technical supports in terms of assistance on regal formulating and short term training programs.

IV. Outlook for 2015

To start the implementation of the strategy plan on capital market development of the Lao PDR for 2016-2025, especially to accomplish the vision of capital market, that is, "to create the capital market to be a key driver for fund allocation by the year 2030 and to ensure the effectiveness, fairness and transparency of capital market, the LSCO will continue formulating and amending legislations that necessary for securities supervisory activity; studying on securities dispute resolution mechanism; encouraging and supporting listed companies to adopte and implemente IFRS as its reporting standards; studying and formulating guideline for listed companies on the Implementation of Corporate Governance (CG) to laying down foundation for adopting the ASEAN CG Score Card; creating list for potential listed companies to issue shares and list on the Lao Securities Exchange; studying on securities company supervisory method by using Risk-Based Supervision; organizing trainings and semminars for schools, universities, state agencies, private sectors and general public to raise the awareness on securities activities; creating special TV and radio programs on securities activity; seeking for technical assistance from securities regulator of Vietnam, China, Thailand, S. Korea, Ministry of Justice of S. Korea and international organizations; working with international organization to prepare readiness to become a member of the International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) and preparing to host the 5th Mekong Capital Market Cooperation (MCMC) meeting in the Lao PDR.

To conclude, securities acitivities are changing and moving quite fast. To achieve the goals set in 2015, therefore, LSCO should pay much efforts on 2 out of 4 breakthroughs including the virtualization and human resource development to serve for Lao Captal Market Development and to ensure the international securities market integration.
